Carbon Consulting

MEASURE

Take the first step to reducing your carbon footprint.

Organizations are eager to understand in a comprehensive way where their carbon footprint stands today, in order to start setting their sustainability goals. Together, we'll work with your team to achieve the first stage of reducing carbon emissions—getting a complete picture of the important energy sources that contribute to your carbon footprint and recognizing where reductions are possible.

Let's make a plan.

Whether you're just beginning carbon reduction efforts or continuing your journey to reach net zero, we'll create a roadmap for success that is sustainable, achievable and meaningful for your organization.

- 1 Assess
Understand where carbon is created within your organization—from product development and physical corporate assets, to utilities, transportation and logistics, as well as employee outputs.
- 2 Benchmark
Apply well-established Greenhouse Gas Protocol standard measurements that are specific to your organization's size and industry to develop a baseline for emissions and track your progress over time.
- 3 Report
Integrate all emissions sources using CLEAResult ATLAS™ to receive a real-time measurement dashboard that allows you to report findings and success to those invested in your environmental success.
- 4 Review
Evaluate your carbon footprint data on a regular basis to identify where greenhouse gas emission can be eliminated or reduced to meet organizational goals, both environmental and financial.
